Principal's Message

Tiger Family,

Welcome to the second semester! We were so happy to have hosted almost 400 members of the community for December 19th's SELF Expo. We're proud of the staff and students who pulled off a fantastic look into the CCHS experiential learning model. We're also excited to announce that on February 22nd, from 6:00 PM to 7:00 PM, our senior class (with a few juniors and sophomores sprinkled in) will showcase their Capstones to the community during the Capstone Expo. On this night and the following, we will also hold the annual Capstone Competition with $10,000 cash and scholarship prizes on the line. Please come out to support our seniors and see what a difference they've made in the community with their passion projects. The competition is open to the public, so we invite you to join and watch the best of the best compete.

The Career Development Incentive Program numbers are in, and once again, CCHS ranks amongst the top schools in the state in earning these certifications for our students. Each certificate represents industry-standard certification that our students must train and test to achieve. Each certificate also earns our school money to reinvest in the programs so that students learn the industry's most advanced technology. Here are the state-wide numbers as reported by the Colorado Department of Education:

Consistent with past years, our school district will administer the BIMAS universal screener. CCHS will be administering this semester's screener during the week of February 6th. If you would like more information, and to opt your child out of the screener, please see the Opt Out form that was sent home on January 18th via the automated parent notification system. Opt Out forms are due back by February 1st.
